

Rules for Raising a Little Lady

These "rules" are simply goals to have in mind as you teach your little girl how to be a modest little lady. As she and her comprehension grow, she will obviously need more from you in this department. But if your daughter is still quite young, this list will help you know where to start.

1. She is always clothed around other people.
2. She sits up in a proper way which does not inappropriately expose body parts or undergarments.
3. She knows that boys and girls have different body parts and that those body parts are special and need to be protected with clothing and kept clean.
4. She understands that her body is beautifully made and not something to feel shame about.
5. She only goes potty with females.
6. She is never left alone in an isolated place with a male for extended periods of time.
7. She is comfortable asking questions about her body because she knows she will get a helpful answer.